Phase 1: Declutter & Depersonalise

- Clear surfaces
- Remove personal items
- Donate unwanted items
- Pack away seasonal decor

Start by decluttering every room in your home. Less is more! Potential buyers want to envision themselves living in space, and personal items can make that difficult. Depersonalise by removing family photos, excessive knick-knacks, and anything that might distract from the home's features.

Phase 2: Cleaning & Repairs

- Deep clean all rooms
- Repair minor damages
- Fresh paint touch-ups
- Pressure wash exterior.

A sparkling clean home reassures buyers that the property has been well-maintained. Focus on deep cleaning kitchens and bathrooms, addressing any necessary repairs, and ensuring that everything is in working order. Even small repairs can make a big difference and a fresh coat of paint can work wonders!

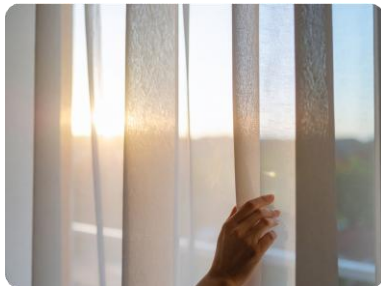

Phase 3: Enhance Curb Appeal

- Mow the lawn
- Trim hedges & bushes
- Add flowers or plants
- Clean walkways & driveway

First impressions matter! Make sure your lawn is well-maintained, your garden is tidy, and your entryway is inviting. Consider adding pops of color with fresh plants to create a welcoming atmosphere and apply mulch to the garden beds.

Phase 4: Maximise Light & Space

- Open curtains and blinds fully
- Clean windows inside and out
- Remove bulky furniture
- Use mirrors to reflect natural light
- Keep rooms clutter-free

Bright, airy rooms appear larger and more inviting, helping buyers visualise themselves living there. Focus on letting in as much natural light as possible and creating an open, uncluttered environment. Strategic use of mirrors and thoughtful furniture placement can enhance the sense of space and brightness.

Expert Tips from 3Two Projects

- Natural Colors: Choose neutral paint colors like soft whites, beiges, or light grays. Neutral tones create a blank canvas that appeals to a broader range of buyers and helps them envision their own style.
- Lighting: Maximise natural light by keeping windows clean and curtains open. Add extra lighting with lamps or updated fixtures in darker rooms to make spaces feel warm and inviting.
- Staging: Consider professional or DIY staging to highlight your home's best features and create an emotional connection for buyers. Even small changes, like arranging furniture or adding decorative accents, can make a big difference.
- Professional Help: Don't hesitate to hire experts for specialised tasks like deep cleaning and repairs. Their skills can improve your home's presentation and save you time and stress.
- Focus on Key Areas: Kitchens and bathrooms are often deal-makers for buyers. Invest time and effort in cleaning, repairing, and updating these rooms to maximise appeal and value.
